

Advanced FPS Kit – Modelling Series

By: Robert Fritzen & Phantom Games Development

I. Introduction

Thank you for your purchase of the Advanced FPS Kit's Modelling Tutorial series. I had a great deal of fun going through the modelling process myself and documenting every single step I performed to obtain the look of my gun. While I haven't done many models yet, my experience in the topic continues to grow with each successive weapon model I create.

I have the many members of GarageGames who helped me learn the process myself to thank, this is sort of my return to the community as I teach a topic that is not very well documented or even covered for that manner in the engine. I hope you gain as much out of this as you possibly can and even surprise me one day with newfound knowledge of your own.

So thank you again for purchasing these tutorial series, and I hope you enjoy the rewards you gain out of learning from it!
